

Registration or Removal of a Linked Storage Unit

Updated: January 2026

Introduction

The SSBA Standards allow registered facilities to store Tier 2 SSBAs in a linked storage unit that is:

- Within the same building as a facility, preferably on the same floor;
- Included as part of the registration of the facility;
- Included in the risk assessment and risk management plans for the facility; and
- Fixed in place or is non-transportable.

You can only register a linked storage unit if your facility is already registered to handle the SSBAs to be stored in the linked storage unit. If you need to register a new facility, please complete the Initial Registration form or if you need to register to handle a new SSBA please complete the Start to Handle a New SSBA form.

You must register each linked storage unit where SSBAs are stored as part of the facility's registration.

Tier 1 SSBAs must only be stored within the secure perimeter of the registered facility.

This form may also be used to remove a linked storage unit from your facility registration.
